ROBBING THE PEOPLE

By Dr. A.C. VISWANATHAN

Discerning members of the public value greatly the work which was done by the Parliamentary Standing Committee on Public Enterprises (COPE), during the chairmanship of Mr Wijedasa Rajapakse MP in inquiring into a number of alleged acts of corruption. To date, the government has not shown any interest in getting the relevant authorities to investigate these misdemeanours thoroughly and have the rogues prosecuted. Instead, Mr Rajapakse appears to have become persona non grata among many of the rich and the powerful for helping expose to the public game many major acts of corruption. In this situation, Sri Lanka was one of Considering the explicit nature of Mr. Rajapakse's observations, it is incumbent upon the Attorney General, in particular to get on with a purposeful programme of investigation and prosecution of at least those cases where sums in excess of say, Rs. Millions are believed to have been squandered or robbed.

A curious aspect which needs to be investigated meticulously is why the Secretaries to the relevant Ministries did not bring to the notice of their Ministers that Cabinet approval was being sought belatedly for

Monopoly status and valuation core contentions; new entrants face snags from SLPA despite AG's opinion in favour

Two legal cases involving the Government and its agencies and complaints over monopoly status have forced the Public Enterprises Reform Commission (PERC) to probe the Rs. 1.2 billion privatisation of Lanka Marine Services Ltd. (LMSL).

The development is despite the LMSL privatisation being carried out during the previous President's Alliance (PA) regime promoting independent analysts to rule out possible 'whistleblowing'. The manner in which the LMSL, then a subsidiary of the CPC-enclosed

LMS privatisation not yielded competition - Central Bank

Central Bank in its 2004 Annual Report has maintained the position that the privatisation of Lanka Marine Services Ltd. (LMSL) was not a success. The report stated that the privatisation of LMSL was not a success because the number of shipping services has been declining in recent years and the number of vessels operating in the region has declined from a peak of 285 ships in 1993.

The main reason is the higher prices of bunker fuel which had not provided an incentive for large employers to invest in the sector.
